As you enter the house into the hallway there is the first reception room to the left, this could easily be a sitting room, play room, home office or fifth bedroom if you liked. You then proceed on into the open plan sitting room and kitchen area, this light and airy room will give you as sense of space and well being. The kitchen is the only part of the house which is not new, there is a double oven range master cooker and American style fridge freezer which will be left for you use. In the utility area there is room for another upright fridge if you wanted one, a large work surface and brand new boiler. From here you can step out into the easy care garden with decking to enjoy an evening meal or drink while the sun goes down. There is a hole for a washing line too. Behind the fence is your off road parking space, the fence has a lockable gate for security when locked and easy access when open for carrying your groceries in from the car. Moving from the open plan living area you go up the stairs and find the master bedroom in front of you, there is more than enough storage with the fitted cupboard that has a built in dressing table with its own down lights. The main light and dressing table lights are on dimmers so you can adjust the mood lighting as necessary. The double glazing throughout the house means you will hardly ever hear any noise coming in from outside. Next door is the brand new bathroom with white suite consisting of a vanity basin [illegible] wall and [illegible] wall hung water shower above. The shower has panelling [illegible] easier to clean [illegible]. There is a [illegible] fitted tower [illegible] the door from the corridor [illegible] the single room which is currently being used as a [illegible] office. [illegible] on [illegible] another [illegible] double [illegible] overlooking the garden. The attic room has a lovely light and airy feel to it. There are three skylights above the staircase that leads to the attic room, behind the door at the top of the stairs there is storage in the remaining roof space. The attic room has a lovely large window with views of Cleeve View Road and Leckhampton Hill in the distance £1,100.00 month, Cheltenham,.
