Having recently found myself with time on my hands, I'm interested in starting up a new theatre group in Cambridge. I was previously part of a local drama group for over 2 years and during my time there, thoroughly enjoyed the experience, enough to jump back on the stage again.

I am interesting in hearing from like minded people with the following skillsets:

Acting talent

Backstage production

Props

Costumes

Set Design

Lighting

Sound

Stage Management It doesn't matter what level of experience you are at, I'm keen to fill this group with contrast and diversity. I've still to finalise details such as venue, launch date etc but I have a couple of scripts in mind for the first stage production, so I aim to hit the ground running. Please contact Steve to register your.
