Hello I am a painter and decorator with 34 years experience, both my father and grandfather taught me the craft. I began painting aged 5 years old when I painted my grandmothers fence in 1976, needless to say the fence still stands although since repainted a few times. I was taught well... Although a civil servant my real passion is painting. I am available for even those small jobs others might not look at, eg painting a radiator or a door frame. I offer very reasonable rates and reliable. I can help bring your project to life in style. Should a project require it I can bring in other trusted tradesmen to complete the task. Painting is more like a hobby to me and something I find great pleasure in and sense of achievement. ;
