The market-leading water boiler. Bought 20.3.13 and used for about 7 months in a local sports club, and stored away ever since so hardly used. Comes with a filter, Water hose and drip tray. There are few scuff marks on the back of the boiler where it sat against a wall other than that in very good working order. The Lincat EB3F is one of the most popular commercial water boilers currently available, and with good reason. Capable of providing a high quantity of hot water at a consistent flow rate in an efficient and effective manner, the EB3F also has a built-in filtration system to help keep water quality high and scale damage to an absolute minimum. Designed with the user in mind, the EB3F comes fitted with a LCD control screen as standard. This screen relays important information back to the operator at all times, displaying important alerts and instructions on how to keep the boiler running as smoothly as possible. With an output of 31 litres per hour, the Lincat EB3F water boiler has one of highest operational capacities of any 3kW boiler around. Features
