It all depends what you want a website to do such as should it be responsive or static like nothing just a basic website also what type of business you want it for, this is very important I only provide the templates of a full responsive or static website, I cannot maintain it for you or host it for you, I just sell you the design templates, and you have to do the rest yourself such as adding your own text or data and images, so for this you should have some knowledge of website development. Hosting is easy and cheap these days I personally use moon fruit cheapest one or whichever you prefer, just give me the details of which type of website or design you are interested in and I will send you the full files by email after payment is complete through PayPal my PayPal is "" without the quotes, so call today for a fully functional design and I will give you a quote thanks! please be clear about your requirements before contacting me!!
