I bought this bike in jan 2013 with cosmetic damage and running problems non runner so sat in the garage for a while before I got round to starting on the bike in what little spare time I had. firstly I tried a couple of things to get the bike running replaced regulator that somebody had removed running but lumpy so had all carbs stripped and cleaned still the same so replaced the carbs spoke to few people like you do was advised maybe one of the coils faulty so replaced still same problem by this time pulling hair out so spoke to auto electrician ran tests came back saying ecu faulty so yes you guessed I replaced ecu seemed fine thought finally running problem sorted I was wrong by this time pockets had run dry so parked up again when funds started to get better start from scratch again then I remember several years ago I had same problem on a car I had so decided to replace fuel pump in the tank finally bike running great with all power so as you can guess by this time I was feed up with the bike and just parked it up where it has sat since in the time I have not even put a 1000miles on this in 3yrs so time has come to let go would advise complete check over as you might as well say not used for nearly 3yrs but does start and ride and has mot while end of july 2016 as you can see from the pictures this is how the bike stands at the moment this is currently sorn off the road this bike is in my name and I do have v5. Just got letter from Suzuki today 17th as regards rectifier they are doing a safety recall so my bike is going to have new rectifier fitted by main dealer so this will be replaced prior to the bike been
