2003 Nissan Almera Automatic This car comes with a 12 month MOT, it is an excellent runner which starts first time everytime, no knocking or banging nor any oil leaks. Great value for money considering the low mileage, i'am willing to take offers if you are prepared to come and view this car to show you are serious. Please call me if you have any questions about this car. Last garage service was at 41k miles, however this has still been serviced as the registered owner has Mechanics in the.
