This 9th and final generation of the legendary Kuro series Plasmas from Pioneer are acknowledged as the best of that technology and have never been surpassed for image quality. This model, which cost over £5000, was built in May 2008 and purchased in December of that year, has not been used for the last 3 years, having been replaced with a larger LCD TV. Even then it was only used in a dedicated Music/TV room for films and music videos, and not very often, and not used for 'run of the mill' TV watching, so has very low hours use. It has no dead pixels and is generally in immaculate condition, with only a couple of (very) tiny scratches on the stand, which are difficult to see unless pointed out. Also included are the optional side mounted stereo speakers which I believe may also be mounted underneath, if required, when the TV is wall mounted. The manual is included on a CD. It is only available for pickup as I no longer have the pallet based box, and it is heavy at approx 45kg so will need 2 people to move.
