Moving to Europe and must sell my beloved scooter within the week. Looks and runs like new (NO marks on body). Fully serviced. Only just over 4000 miles. Only 1 owner (myself). I brought it over with me from Canada, which means the main speedometer dial is in kilometers, with miles also displayed. But of course it was approved for UK use and is indeed licensed. One of its main appeals is the very elegant (and rare) grey colour which led me to buy it new instead of cheaper second hand models. Give me a shout if you like it too!
