We are a CIAT registered Architectural Technology Practice based in Rothwell working in Northamptonshire, London and throughout the country. We offer services to domestic clients and other professionals and practices with the aim of assisting them to achieve their goals whatever they may be within the architectural field. WHAT WE DO. Our practice is a small, malleable and adaptable practice who are not only an architectural practice in our own right but also cater for sub contracting, drafting capabilities and consultancy based services in an on demand capability to other architectural practices and professionals to allow for lean construction principles to apply to design and resource management. In a nut shell, we are able to guide clients through the process from inception through to completion on site and enable our professional partners to tackle any project on demand to a fixed and quantifiable price and turn around exposure. HOW WE DO IT. We undertake commissions from a single dormer installation to multiple plot developments. Every project is given the utmost dedication, resources and attention to detail it deserves irrespective of budget, size or client. As each project is different, each project requires a bespoke design and solution. this is usually conceived by the client and crafted and guided by us. We utilise the latest CAD and BIM technology to assist in realising the projects full potential. WHY WE DO IT. We empower our clients to comprehend and master architecture and the built environment. We take pride in aiding other architectural practices to grow and maintain a robust business and we gain immense satisfaction by helping private clients realise the dreams and visions in their minds become bricks and mortar in.
