40m plug in cable with both UK and Euro fittings (10mm cable not the cheap 6mm)

A twin 6 kg bottle gas low kit (fitted) with refilling nozzle, three fitments for all euro countries for the gas low kit

2 fire extinguishers

2 fire alarms

1 CO2 alarm all fitted

wall mounted glass (jasper conman) frames and one silver edged frame

Fan upgrade in bedroom (Croatia this year was 34 degrees so you do need it)

Euro lens adaptors for headlights three sets of breathilzers

the legally required spare bulb kit (plus an assortment of other bulbs and fuses)

LED lights throughout the wagon (changed to improve battery life)

Conversion to three leisure batteries so without running lasts using all electrical items approx a week before it drops to 12v (never go below the batteries don't like)

Solar panel fitted on the roof with switch over between engine and leisure batteries , so no need to charge over winter (if not used, which would be a shame coz thats a great time to van it)

Although it has a large table included I have also fitted a small wine table (as we call it) as holds a good chardonnay and glasses no problem

2 TV /dvd players (in lounge it runs on 12 v, bedroom runs on Invertor or plug in power

Invertor (1500w, ideal for an iron or hair drier) this was not then standard 800w as that was too weak so I had a new carpet fitted. I have a set of van seats with just vinyl on them. In winter you can't see the carpet but the vinyl engine top is only 35 MPG. It has a 20 bhp motor a great when going up the alps.

It has steel hub caps

Fiamma F45i awning

Fiamma bike cycle rack

Fiamma blocks for levelling

Anti slip mats (yes Fiamma!!)

The internal plastic spot lights have been changed to solid stainless steel as the old ones looked cheap

Tires were new in november last year new brake all round 2 years ago (just passed MOT with no advisories or attention needed (only vehicle I have had this with)

JVC premier DAB/USB/CD/AUX with remote control brand new system fitted with speakers added so you can listen in bed

Full colour reversing camera system, not cheap and pointless black and white one

Outer water pump upgrade fitted, (so if you need to fill from canister as I found in europe a few times you just plug it in and no lifting for you, this got a lot of attention when meeting other campers!!)

Bonnet bra in black chequer to prevent stone chips

Child safe double bed webbing for cab bed (so they can't fall out, and comes with ladder)

Winterisation fitted

There is also another fitted socket if needed which I used for a hot blanket for my bed so hot was warm to get in when i was skiing, don't need it but its nice to have it

3 empty water tanks, ideal as back ups

a spare thetford toilet cartridge as well as the original

Flat hose on a
