Hello! My name is Steven, the flute has been my passion since I could remember. I have started playing the flute from the age of five and continued to play it ever since. I studied at the Conservatory in Italy alongside a renowned teacher pupil of the great James Galway. I then got a master degree in Music Therapy at the University.

Tutoring experience

I am currently working as a Music Therapist in Bristol and I also teach privately. I have plurennial experience in tutoring and I love being able to pass on my passion and skills to my students. My private students are of a variety of ages from 10 years to 60.

Tutoring approach

I am committed to bring closer the students to music and to make the learning process as a pleasant and enjoyable experience, providing them with the necessary knowledge to achieve their musical goals. The teaching approach will be personalised according to the tastes and to the student's preparation. Everyone is welcome from beginners with no musical knowledge to the more advanced. I am available to teach at my home or can travel to student's home for.
