I have been professionally making baskets for a living for over 32 years now. First starting as an apprentice in the 1980's. Then moving on to piece work there after. I chose to do a longer apprenticeship than some others, as I could then make a much larger variety of baskets while on piece work.
I became self-employed and opened my own business in 1992. I have supplied Harrods and film studios etc, as most of my items are made to measure.professionally
