This is a water tank 970mm X 610mm X 650mm high (38inch X24inch X 26inch high). Not sure what the BL50L on the lid means but it the normal size used in a 4 bed house. I had been using it as a sump when wet cutting tiles, hence the chalky mess which will easily wash off but I did not have access to water when I was clearing out my lock up. It is water tight apart from the obvious plumbing connections. It comes with the lid.

Collection is from Reigate, Surrey, post code RH2 8DY which is only 5 minutes from Jnc 8 of M25, or Horley which is only 5 minutes from Gatwick airport.
